

Chapter 13

My heavenly fal

What ever happened in the time after December 10th and February 1st was just more drag shows and the cult of tj maxx, countless job applications, rage and love. Faith used some of my money to buy land in latye for are future.

A couple people online know I'm going back, but under the nda I was not allowed to post about my return to the womb of purification. I spent my 15 hours of flight plus layovers reaching for faith online but she was out with family. It's all ok. I land and tell myself I'll walk to save the money for our plans we haven't discussed over the past year. But I was divorced and ready to do anything she wanted if she gave me time. I stayed at v hotel next to her's, she told me and m before that she cannot share a room with me under the rules, that's why are final night was at a different hotel. I thought this was what she wanted, after my walk check in was not for a couple hours, so I used the Bay area suite manila free Wi-Fi to contact faith. I waited for both faith and a hotel room. I got to check in early and shower before faith arrived. I was an Accord hello for sure. Kinda a smile and a hesitant hug, no kiss for sure but an I miss you was good enough after I pulled it out of her. We went for a walk to get a milkshake at a pizza place then returned to my hotel because she wanted me to nap, so I did. This was the closest is ever been to faith. That cuddle moment is what I miss every day of my life after I left for Vegas and it reminded me even if Ann beat me I got that physical touch that faith finally gave me. I was counting on getting it often because I had returned even if no sex , just that hand holding , touching was what I had been longing for this whole 2 years with her. We went to a restaurant on a roof and I tried to desperately pull information out of her about this trip and what it means for us. All this time, money and effort to get here from my hell of a life to the arms of my reluctant angel. We said goodbye, good night and I was momentarily satisfied, she has work again and I just thought she'd stop by after work or I could go see her after or something. But day 2 no faith , I walked for hours and when she finally finished work she said good night over text. It was ok , I got 100$ Canada to have us exchange and make a video for my friend Patricia , this never happened, also 100 $ USB was sent for me and faith to make a thank you cameo over a dinner. This almost didn't happen, everyone seemed like they wanted faith to be happy but faith was fighting it just still active online as if she wasn't. But day 3 was the same , I bought tea and spoke with the tea lady for an hour about my relationship with faith and she thought it's over and I should move on. The next day I got to deliver lunch to faith and my hope was to eat together so I bought extra, I was trying not to eat to save money for whatever plan she would finally tell me. But she took the lunch and ran back to work and we didn't meet that night either. The next night we met for hotpot and I still pulled at her to expose her version of our future. No luck and I was feeling beaten , defeated, lost and alone in my heavenly escape from my worthless life. That next day I didn't get any time with her either, I left in the night because my Wi-Fi cut out and the hot water didn't work the whole time either. I went to faiths hotel lobby to say good night to faith before I went to sleep, on my way a girl started talking to me and I definitely wanted someone to talk to about my dwindling hopes of an unknown future. I started to walk away when a man told me to go inside for girls , my easy way out is o sorry trans girls only, he says lady boy? I say for marriage. He points to his club and says I only hire ladyboys and you get half off your time there. I sighed and looked at faiths hotel and thought I really wish she just would talk to me . So I went upstairs and I was told I can drink with any girl I like and talk for an hour for 5$, fine. But I didn't feel comfortable picking a girl, I told the host to give me someone who would listen and seat myeft in a corner. I got a kinda attractive girl who was very nice to talk too and she also thinks I should start over. I still have time . I leave that thank all of them all so much and tell them I'll try to come back. I gave away all that was in my wallet because they deserve it more than me and faith refused to spend it. I went to sleep and really tried to convince faith to come see me later but I was denied in the morning, that afternoon I went to look for art supplies and failed, but on my way back to the hotel to stare out a window and wish faith would come around, Angela waved me down, I thought she was waving to someone else. But I was happy to wave back and wanted someone to talk to of course. As she got up and closer I was like oh no she's trans and hot. I told her I haven't eaten and if she wanted to talk over lunch or go grocery shopping I'd love to after I drop off my bag in my hotel. She agreed to lunch , but she lives too far for groceries. She followed me all the way to the hotel room where I dropped off my bag and she took off her clothes to enjoy the AC and I couldn't stop drooling. She of course noticed and that was all it took to cheat on faith for the first time. Angela is vers and we had a lot of fun. I asked her as we showered after if we could just be friends, I explained my situation to her as we walked to the hotel , so she knows she's not girlfriend or fiance. But I had to tell faith I'm done and I cheated , whatever she's looking for isn't me, she needs to be single so another guy can actually help her. But no faith tonight either. The next day Angela is asking for me again. But I woke up too early and checked out the bars at 3am and none of them had a vibe I really liked or girls. But I saw Mom's and kids selling flowers and outside and said this is my spot , I bought all of them breakfast and that day I met natalia, she's 18 but just a friend. I later met Angela and the time I was hoping faith would give me was happening, walking, hand holding, naps, sex , food together. But that night still no faith, I made it very clear we had to talk. I explained to Angela all my plans I had told faith a year ago and she was ok with the marriage with a friend or Thailand, so I met her friend and we tried to see if we could pull off this idea, her English was very limited but we could but Angela soon changed the plan back to Thailand, so we researched how it would work for her to use that ticket and the Philippines says she can't just go over there after just meeting, it's 1 in 9 who get thru and I'm poor so we don't go with Thailand and go back and forth on this marriage plan with her friend. That next morning I went out again and met aki , I was going to other bars to see if there was anyone who wanted a free breakfast, but no luck but a man from the bar pulled me in and offered to sit me with someone to talk, I met aki and I told her this story and she offered to have me visit her later at her job next door. , I said why not I'll be alone anyways. I met Angela again for company but to my disbelief faith came out to say hi. We had that not so fun talk and I told her everything. I told her she needs to set up her next boyfriend to get her family help because you're not taking my money to help them, even those gift boxes were just sitting in her room. The money wasn't being exchanged and that 100$ to eat dinner still not used. Ally plans unused, what are we doing faith? I'm here a week and we're not using it to do anything to progress anything. So she was angry and left. I thought everything was over and she understood I needed direction in a team. But a couple hours later I got a crying phone call and we didn't break up. So the plan was I move into her hotel and I get us another set of tickets to Thailand. She made a decision, finally. So the next morning I cut Angela off, moved hotels and faith was there, we talked a lot about my new rules and life. I'm not to leave the hotel, I'm not to talk to others and I bought the tickets and hotel to Thailand. That was all the extra I had to tell vacation pay and paychecks from tj maxx. And faith's hotel is a little more expensive, but I have the next 4 days of v hotel to Angela. Faith would listen to my live streams, so I was allowed to do that so she could monitor my conversations with others. Me and her went out to get paper so I had something to do in the hotel all day while she worked. This was fine, Angela kept trying to reach out and I kept shooting her down. But the next day after moving in I had to buy a new ring for faith if we were going to Thailand so Angela was right there asy assistant In shopping and she also got a ring just in case faith blows up like with the knife thing again, now I had scissors we got together at a art store. The ring was nice I thought but we will see. We had sex but I saved myself for faith just in case. I said goodbye forever to Angela for now if everything went well.

Me and Faith spent the night together finally, we had sex and it was good. Faith's cuteness gets a lot of points. The next morning I started my, no leaving the hotel and that was fine. I had faith and she seemed happy as well as getting our time in Thailand soon. Everything was great, then day 2 I think I was Valentine's Day and I insisted we spend the 100$ and send that video. So we did and I gave faith the ring, she didn't care for it. That night she spent most of the night working on a video to upload and we went to bed. The next day we a repeat of paper art and live streaming for a day. We met a coworker after work for a birthday party and then met her cousin for dinner and we met some philippna model, and we all got a long. We had sex again. The next day I explored to pool and gym, the gym was forgotten and locked but I got in thru the window outside. I started my searching for a cosponsor but no luck and me and faith had another night. That day during live stream eden was just talking to me about a photo together and meeting me and faith. She was supposed to be a forever marriage to defeat my evil ex wife but she knows she's just a friend now, but I think about Ashley often. So faith over hears this conversation and texts me it's fine if we don't leave property so I'm under camera observation of staff to review my behavior. I live streamed all day and edan eventually showed up later and faith refused to come down and say hi for a photo. Faith and me saw a fan in the mall so I ran up gave him a hug, thanked him for saying hi, took photos and was disappointed I forgot my autograph material at the hotel that I gave to faith to send to people. And faith was not ok with me being so happy meeting people. So I thought it was just her social weirdness. But I told Eden sorry and paid her for her bus ride home and hope her kid is good. When I got back to my hotel room it was time to fight, faith took my phone and lost her mind , she did not like I spoke to everyone about are relationship, and didn't like I didn't block Angela, so I blocked Angela and I agreed to no more fans saying hi, I was to ignore the world and just be in the hotel with paper. She left in a huff to come back to say it's over. Too bad those tickets and hotel are non-refundable and my 2500 just gone. I unblocked Angela and told her to meet me tomorrow at v hotel if she liked , she did. The next day I packed up and went back to v hotel as well as finally seeing natalia and her family again, Angela was ok with me having a friend and a family when she's way off in her home with her family. This had to of been a Friday because I had money for the hotel, and the groceries I got her natalia and her family. If faith didn't spend it then I would use it for good, to help others tell I figured out me and Angela's plan. We went off to malls and I explained saki, Angela she was also reluctant to build with her, there's nothing wrong with saki. That next morning I went to try my luck at selling flowers for children to eat breakfast. But failed as the American, no one understood. But there was aki on her birthday, so I said ok I'll buy you a drink,she dropped off her gifts at my hotel then she bought a whole bottle and I didn't want her to drink the whole thing alone so I did drink too much because she was already drunk. But then I had to carry her back to my hotel because she couldn't walk so she could sleep off the alcohol. Soon Angela showed up and I asked do you want to wait for her to wake up or we leave her with a text , so we left her to sleep and me and Angela took a bus to a far off waterfall and lunch at another Robinson's. Then when we got back to manila my phone exploded with calls and texts from aki, the hotel didn't let her take her things from the hotel , so me and Angela waited for her to arrive and Angela and Aki had a conversation and I paid Aki for the cab fair. Faith gave back all the money that was for her family and I said fine don't help your family. So whatever Angela said to Aki was important because now Aki was the new marriage for visa wife. So I planned to meet Aki that night, Angela and natila talked about this plan also later that day. So Angela took her bus home and I was going to take natila to the bar Aki worked at and natila didn't go, but I told Aki this plan, but turns out a marriage certificate needed 10 days authorization and I didn't have 10 days, so ? All this planning was for nothing , all I could do is wait out the rest of my time with Angela . The next day me , Angela and natila went out together for fun, I kept telling her we could go to a pool but they wouldn't agree on the pool to go to. I had the realization that if I got a 2 bedroom I could have gotten her family into the pool at the hotel. I was still waiting on that money from the show so far my ex wife took the first 8000 ish, but I was in 16 episodes so that's 8000 I'm supposed to be paid out in February , even though I wasn't in Derek's house for an entire month he wanted his rent of 500, and he didn't remember I had this ticket was not happy I just left. That was a good day and that night I returned to the trans girl bar the mermaid, I told that girl everything that had happened and I told her goodnight and I might never see her again and thank you. The next day was more adventurous around manila and I got a massage girl that night when I was out to find a person to buy dinner. She was a tasty trans massage girl but I gave her a massage instead and paid her double. Angela never spent the night. We watched the show together this next day I think to save the last of my money before the show would pay me, it's almost the end of February, and she left that night and in the morning I got the money. I went out to buy people breakfast, I got the kids bakery goods. But a group of trans girls was pointed out by one of the moms and I ended up buying them breakfast also, but I told them if they ask Angela maybe we all could go to the hotel room, as the sun rises the heat starts and they wanted to wait in the AC, fine and that's how we all had sex before Angela showed up and now they wanted payment, they got my phone and drained 3000 $ quick before Angela arrives. But Angela got them out before we could continue anything further. Angela was upset we didn't wait but I did try to have them wait. I didn't realize the money was gone till a while later. But we met one of her friends near a place we got her a white dress. The plan was start a small business with 2000$ but it was gone. My rent gone and Angela was not happy. Back to broke in less than 5 hours. I had just enough for the 2 days left. That night a girl who I thought was a fan of the show was texting me and showed up at my room, she was so cute and I told her to leave but she demanded payment to leave and dinner. She also had never watched the show. I finally paid her to leave but I had to go to the ATM, I told mermaid goodbye because tomorrow was my last day. I was hoping I'd get to say goodbye to Natalia but I have yet to see her again. That final day we had sex in the morning before going to Natalia's family to give away the last of my things. I had the last of my pesos to Angela and we went out to the Mall of Asia, it's closer to the airport. We stay strong and tell those final moments in the airport.
